

5 REASONS TO ALLOW OBSERVERS IN NEGOTIATIONS

1 Allowing observers into the negotiations ensures transparency of discussions

We enrich the content of the negotiations with our wealth of knowledge, expertise and experience 2

3 We represent and support the groups that are most severely impacted by climate change

As public servants, negotiators are ultimately accountable to us! 4

5 The climate negotiations are not about small narrow issues, they are about our future, and we should be able to help shape that future
